

First Production 09 Corvette ZR1 Sells For 1 Million

Contributed by Mording42
Friday, 15 February 2008

Dave Ressler is one happy man as of this past weekend, after stealing the winning bid for the worlds first production Corvette ZR1 at a solid $1,000,000. As with other auctions, all the proceeds were given to The United Way foundation. Armed with a Supercharged LS9 Small-Block V-8, this first production, one of one Le Mans blue version is one clean muscle car. If you missed our run down of the ZR1 with full detailed information. Regular MSRP for the new ZR1 stands at $100,000.